This is a pictorial story of your school year given to you by seasons. These scenes hold memories of a basic education. Beyond these vivid scenes lies the future.

FALL

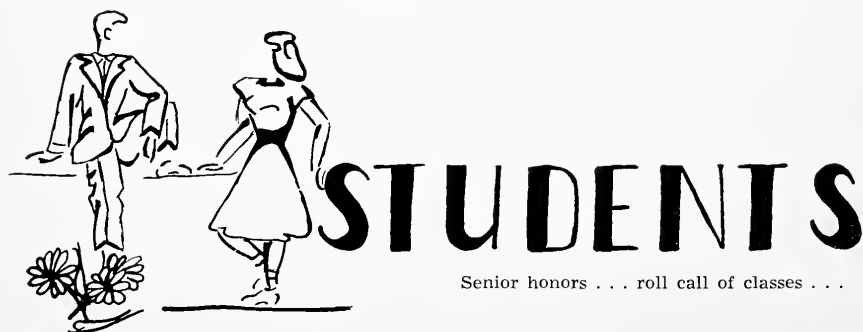

Renewing friendships . . . attending new classes . . . meeting our principal and teachers . . . night football games . . .

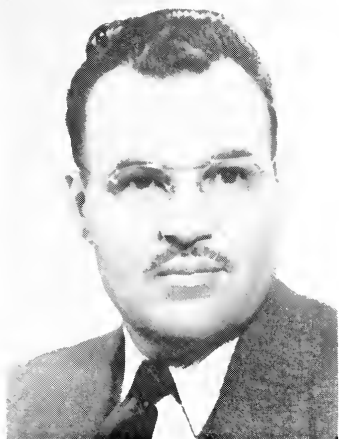

Winter wonderland . . . trimming the Christmas tree . . . dancing at the Snowball Hop . . . music festivals . . . exciting basketball games . . . club activities . . .

SPRING

Our Principal

The school season for Mr. John H. Young does not end with spring, but continues through the summer.

Mr. Young has served as principal since 1939. Much of the credit for the first class commission and membership in the North Central Association belongs to him.

His firm leadership and guidance are well remembered by the New Haven graduates.

Our Trustee

The trustee of Adams Township, Mr. Lee H. Burgette, is now giving his sixth year of faithful service. The students seldom get the chance to express gratitude for his cooperation and interest in the school.

A Projectionist Club has been organized by Mrs. Delia Redman, the science instructor, for the student operators. Mr. Harold Nelson, co-sponsor of the senior class, has a hobby of plastics and instructs a disabled veteran's class in that field in addition to his school classes in biology and shop.

The mathematics teacher, Mr. Earl Marshall, really had plenty of mathematical practice as co-sponsor of the canteen.

Mr. Leslie Pensinger, mechanical drawing teacher, promotes sportsmanship through the Booster's Club.

Law and order is doubled at New Haven because Mr. Everett Frock, co-sponsor of sophomore class and history teacher, is a deputy sheriff.

Miss Rowena Walker, Latin instructor and librarian, is a member of the Fort Wayne Philharmonic Chorus.

A new course, home nursing and child care, is being taught by Miss Virginia Royster along with her home economics courses.

A new method of choosing National Honor Society members is accredited to Miss Opal Bower, government teacher and co-sponsor of the sophomore class.

Through the junior English classes Miss Harriet Daniels has introduced vocational guidance, which is becoming a popular, as well as a useful course.

To improve the quality of the Mirage and Bulldog's Bark, Miss Elizabeth Leaird and Miss Marge Eichel attended a special summer course at Indiana University to study high school journalistic problems.

To mix pleasure with work, Mr. Byron Downey, the shorthand and typing instructor, gives assignments in artistic typing, which is his hobby. He is co-sponsor of the freshman class.

Miss Ann Haller, the art instructor, has won many prizes in her hobby of ceramics. She is co-sponsor of the freshman class.

Private piano lessons are given by Miss Evelyn Walter to high school students after school.

Mrs. Young, the school's efficient secretary, is an important member of the school system.

Mr. Carl Buffenbarger coached the team to the first N.E.I.C. championship.

Mrs. Wanda Nowels, the girls' physical education instructor, is introducing new sports, along with the driving course.

The school is proud of its music instructor, Mr. Bernard Pressler, who appears as first trombonist in the Fort Wayne Philharmonic Orchestra.

The freshmen are learning about insects, plants, and animals in Mr. Nelson's biology class.

English Four is an excellent preparation for college. The students learn to apply the mechanics of writing in the many themes required. One semester is also devoted to English literature.

Life can be made more beautiful as any girl in home economics will tell you.

Besides helping find information, the student librarians keep order in the library, sign books out, check books in, and keep the shelves in order.

The future orators are being trained in speech class. Maybe a Patrick Henry will come from this group.

These students enjoyed painting the town. Of course, the painting was part of a town mural created in art class.

Ruth Wiese, Barbara Bell, and Marjorie Burkett, first year typists, can type over fifty words a minute. Herman Koenig and Kenneth Augenstein, second year typists, do very accurate work.

The "know-how" of a movie projector is the object of the Projectionist's Club. Anyone of this group can operate the projector.

Our Coaches

The athletic department is under the supervision of two fine and able coaches, Coach Carl Buffenbarger and Assistant Coach Paul Weaver.

Mr. Weaver, a new addition to the athletic section this year, directs the destinies of the freshman and junior high teams, while Mr. Buffenbarger supervises the varsity and second teams.

"PIGSKIN" FINAL

Won 1—Lost 7

In the second game, the Bulldogs lost to Columbia City, 18-13, and again on September 26 the Bulldogs were defeated by Decatur 18-6. Portland handed the Bulldogs a 27-0 defeat for their fourth loss of the season. On October 11, the Bulldogs lost to Garrett, 20-13, and again when they dropped a 40-0 decision to the Auburn Red Devils.

Showing a grim determination, the New Haven Bulldogs brought to a close their 1947 gridiron season by scoring a 7-0 victory over the Concordia Cadets on October 22. The victorious Bulldogs, who hit pay-dirt in the second quarter on Schrader's touchdown and conversion by Ellenberger, walked off of the field with a well fought and hard earned victory.

Class officers were Harold Parker, president; Doris Meyers, vice-president; Mary Koester, secretary; and Kenneth Augenstein, treasurer. In October the boys assisted the Chamber of Commerce in planning a supervised Halloween celebration. The boys brought further honor to the class by winning the class tournament in both junior and senior year.

To close the school year, seventy-six seniors wore their caps and gowns on senior day, May 7, and commencement, May 14.

FOUR YEAR HONOR ROLL

The following students have qualified for the Four Year Honor Roll: George Brueggemann, David Felt, Betty Fultz, Ruthann Gabet, Warren Grover, Mary Lou Koester, Joanne Poirson, Arthur Ruoff, and John Ward. Carolyn Davidson qualified for the Honor Roll by maintaining an average of over 90 for this year at New Haven.

OTHER HONORS

Mary Lou Koester was chosen by her fellow classmates and the faculty as the D.A.R. Good Citizen. In her junior year she was elected Prom Queen.

Harold Parker has been class president for four years. He was also chosen by the N.E.I.C. coaches as a member of the first All-Conference Five and was presented with a silver basketball.

Jack Gladieux reigned as New Haven's first Prom King. He was voted a member of the second All-Conference team and received a bronze basketball.

John Ward passed the academic test for the NROTC.

Betty Fultz was awarded a scholarship by the Phi Rho Zeta international sorority to attend Elkhart Business University to study twelve months in medical secretarial work.

Miriam Bandelier won a trip to Chicago last fall through 4H achievement work.

Dallas Cutler, a member of the senior class, left in December for the Navy. He will probably receive his high school diploma from the Navy this summer.

Thos Who Will Follow

The Junior Class held their first class meeting in the early part of September. A nominating committee was appointed to nominate people for class offices. Class officers were elected as follows:

Following the custom, the juniors took over the management of the school canteen. Bob Locke was elected canteen manager and Thelma Parker, assistant manager. In October the class spent the evening dancing, singing, and playing games at a class party at the home of Marjorie Zink. In March the junior girls won the annual girls' class tournament.

Ruth Wiese was elected Prom Queen and Keith Emenhiser, King. The court includes Thelma Voors, Rhea Harvey, R. D. Thimlar, and Marvin Meyer.
